

NCB 2022 VIRTUAL INNOVATION INTERNSHIP PROGRAMME

Terms & Conditions

The NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme is hosted by National Commercial Bank Jamaica Limited (“NCB”) and is designed to engage university students through a variety of tailored assignments. By participating in the internship students will gain both industry specific experience as well as general business acumen.

The NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme (“the Programme”) shall be administered under these Terms and Conditions:

- Completing the application/submission form for the Programme does not constitute acceptance to participate.
- Following the close of application submission, NCB will select and confirm the persons who are invited to participate in the Programme.
- If you are selected to participate, you agree to comply with all applicable laws, and to abide by these Terms, any other guidelines or instructions provided to you during the Programme.
- You also agree that all decisions of NCB and the Programme judges are final and binding.

1 The Purpose of the Virtual Innovation Internship Programme

The objective of the Programme is to engage a cadre of university students to develop a bank of ideas for future products and services.

6 Idea Guidelines

The ideas submitted for consideration for the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme must meet all of the following criteria:

- a) It must be an idea that is viable for use within the NCB Group of Companies.
- b) It must not contain, depict, imply or refer (explicitly or through any commonly recognized abbreviations or other representations) to any crude, vulgar, obscene, sexually explicit, violent, disparaging, discriminatory, offensive, illegal or otherwise unsuitable language, activity or other content (all as determined by NCB in its sole discretion).
- c) It must not contain, depict or refer to any content which disparages or refers negatively to NCB, the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme, or any other person or entity (all as determined by NCB in its sole discretion).
- d) It must not contain, depict or refer to any content which unnecessarily refers to any third party (person or entity) (as determined by NCB in its sole discretion).
- e) It must not conflict with any of NCB's core values, or otherwise be objectionable to NCB (as determined by NCB in its sole discretion).
- f) It must not contain any content that violates any law or any third party's rights (including privacy, publicity, personality and intellectual property rights).

7 Judging Process

In their sole discretion, NCB and the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship judges will select the Top ideas.

Because NCB is targeting innovative ideas and solutions, there is no single criterion upon which submissions will be judged. Solutions will be assessed based on a combination of the following criteria:

- Feasibility
- Novelty;
- Scalability;
- Showing “out of the box” thinking;
- Business impact/potential;
- Ability to be implemented;
- Ability to rapidly add value to business;

The judges reserve the right to select fewer winners if some entries are not strong enough to pursue for elaboration or development.

8 Compensation

- Each intern will receive a competitive weekly salary.
- Interns will work in teams. A cash award will be available to reward the top team at the end of the programme. This is at the sole discretion of the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship judges who reserve the right to split the reward if necessary.
- Participants will be solely responsible for all travel, remote work and other costs associated with the Programme and obtaining or redeeming the award(s) and/or opportunities, including but not limited to any air or ground transportation, hotel accommodations, meals, beverages, utility and telephone expenses.

9 Cancellation

If for any reason NCB cannot host the Programme as planned due to any unanticipated or uncontrollable events, NCB may modify, extend or suspend the Programme in its sole and reasonable discretion, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

NCB may also disqualify any individual who does not comply with these Terms and Conditions as NCB may reasonably determine in its sole discretion, without notice, including (but not limited to) any individual who tampers with or in any way corrupts the application or judging process, or who attempts to undermine the legitimate operation of the Programme by cheating, hacking, deception, or other unfair practices, or by attempting to annoy, abuse, threaten or harass any other participants or NCB representatives or breaches these Terms and Conditions.

10 Intellectual Property Rights

By participating in this NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme, each participant acknowledges and agrees to grant NCB an irrevocable right to use any ideas, concepts generated during or related to the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme.

Each participant further agrees that any ideas or concepts related to the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme that are shared are not confidential or proprietary, and NCB and its affiliates may use, incorporate or disclose any of them now or in the future in any manner, and each participant waives any and all claims that they may have against NCB (or its affiliates, contractors and agents) or anyone else participating or otherwise involved in this Programme for such use or disclosure.

By making an idea submission, participants acknowledge and agree that NCB may obtain many ideas in connection with this Programme and/or other marketing initiatives or Programmes staged and/or offered by NCB, and that such submission may be similar or identical in theme, idea, format or other respects to other submissions submitted in connection with this Programme and/or other Virtual Innovation Internship Programmes or marketing initiatives operated by NCB or submitted for other reasons or other materials developed by NCB or its contractors or agents. Unless prohibited by applicable law, participants waive any and all claims against NCB, sponsors and/or any other participants they may have had, may have, and/or may have in the future, that any submission and/or other works accepted, reviewed and/or used by NCB or other participants may be similar to his/her submission, or that any compensation is due to participant in connection with such submission or other works used by NCB or its affiliates. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing waiver shall not impair or limit any legal rights under applicable national legislation governing consumer rights that cannot be excluded, limited, amended or waived.

11 Publicity

Except where otherwise prohibited by law, participation in the NCB Virtual Innovation Internship Programme constitutes a participant's consent to NCB's use of the participant's name, voice, likeness, biography and home town name, mention of the nature of participant's participation in the Programme and photographs and video taken at the Programme's events, for marketing and promotional purposes without further notification, permission, payment or consideration.
